

I was born and raised in Northern Virginia. Then, after high school, I moved halfway across the country to pursue my Bachelor's degree at the University of Missouri (MIZ). I married my high school sweetheart a week after my college graduation and jumped right into Military Spouse life. We've been stationed at Fort Bliss and Fort Riley before calling Fort Sill home.

Most of my time is spent as a Financial Advisor at First Command Financial Services helping military families plan for their financial future. When I'm not working, I enjoy crafting, golfing with my husband, and volunteering.

Thanks,
Allison
